Celebrating Fiber

Fiber Exhibit December 4, 2017 through January 22, 2018
Opening reception on Tuesday, December 5th, 7-8:30pm
Juried by Selection Committee

“Celebrating Fiber”, an exhibit to be displayed at the JGallery at Shalom Austin (the Jewish Community Center), 7300 Hart Lane, Austin, Texas 78731, in Partnership with the JGallery at Shalom.

Objective: To share joy and enthusiasm for the diversity of fiber art, while promoting and educating the general population in the diversity of fiber arts, the Austin Fiber Artists present a fiber art exhibit. The distinct voice of each artist, their visions and talents will be represented by the collection of these unique pieces.

Juror: Selection committee.

Eligibility: Show is open to both current members of the Austin Fiber Artists (AFA) and non-members. Each individual may enter three (3) pieces of art for this show. AFA members to pay an entry fee of $30 for up to three pieces, due when submitting entry online.

Non-member entry fee will be $35 for up to three pieces.

Artwork must be original and completed after January 1, 2015, and not have been part of a previous Austin Fiber Artists Exhibit.

Each piece must be primarily of textiles and fiber, but may incorporate other materials.

Exhibit restrictions dictate that all entries must be able to be hung on the wall and cannot exceed 50 inches in height. All hanging apparatus must be included with artwork.

Please do not include any religious imagery, nudity or violent content.

Entry Format: Entries will be selected from online Art Call system.

Sales: Artwork cannot be removed during the exhibit. Any sales will be handled by Shalom Austin. There will be a 20% commission charged by the JGallery.

Insurance: Covered by the JGallery.
